EXPRESSING SENSE OF CONGRESS REGARDING WOMEN'S MUSEUM INSTITUTE

Mr. SESSIONS. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the Senate proceed to the immediate consideration of S. Con. Res. 67, submitted earlier today by Senator HUTCHISON.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The clerk will report.

The legislative clerk read as follows:

A concurrent resolution (S. Con. Res. 67) expressing the sense of Congress that the museum entitled "The Women's Museum: An Institute for the Future," in Dallas, Texas, be designated as a millennium project of the United States.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection to the immediate consideration of the concurrent resolution?

There being no objection, the Senate proceeded to consider the concurrent resolution.

Mrs. HUTCHISON. Mr. President, I am pleased today to support, along with my distinguished colleagues, Senators MURRAY, SNOWE, LANDRIEU, FEINSTEIN, BOXER, MIKULSKI, MOSELEY-BRAUN, and COLLINS this concurrent resolution to grant recognition to the effort now underway to establish The Women's Museum: An Institute for the Future.

This important museum, being sponsored by the Foundation for Women's Resources in Texas and to be completed in 2000 in Dallas, will appropriately be designated by this resolution as a national millennium project for the United States. While the resolution will not preclude other official events and activities commemorating the turn of the millennium, it will serve to highlight the contributions of women in our Nation and world and how those contributions promise to continue to expand and evolve into the next century and millennium. The Women's Museum: An Institute for the Future will become a focal point for this recognition and appreciation of the role of women in our lives and culture and in commerce, politics, art, music, the sciences, and virtually every other field of endeavor.

Mr. President, I am especially excited about the tremendous potential of this museum to educate all people, particularly young women and girls, about the growing opportunities women have today—opportunities that were only dreams a few decades ago. These visitors to the museum will have the opportunity to learn about the past, present, and potential future lives and accomplishments of women, using a variety of traditional and innovative exhibits and interactive experiences. Moreover, the museum will serve as a center where people may gather to discuss and research the history and trends of issues affecting women.

The museum will be housed in the historic Texas State Fair Coliseum, located on the grounds of Fair Park in Dallas, which receives over six million visitors a year and is already home to a host of cultural and artistic attractions. The Women's Museum: An Institute for the Future will be an exciting addition to this state and national asset, and I am confident will continue to attract the enthusiastic support of governments, individuals, and corporations across the nation and across the world. It is my hope that this concurrent resolution will help focus even more attention on this effort to acknowledge and understand the virtually limitless potential of women in our society.

Thank you, Mr. President, and I ask unanimous consent that the text of the concurrent resolution be printed in the RECORD.

Mr. SESSIONS. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the resolution be agreed to; that the preamble be agreed to; that the motion to reconsider be laid upon the table; and that any statements relating to the resolution appear at the appropriate place in the RECORD.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

The resolution (S. Con. Res. 67) was agreed to.

The preamble was agreed to.

The resolution, with its preamble, is as follows:

S. CON. RES. 67

Whereas knowledge of our heritage is critical to understanding and meeting the challenges of today and developing a vision for our future;

Whereas the recognition of historic contributions of women to civilization is woefully lacking and such contributions are misunderstood in our Nation's cultural and historical landscape;

Whereas the Foundation for Women's Resources has announced the creation of The Women's Museum: An Institute for the Future (in this resolution referred to as the "Museum"), a state-of-the-art, interactive museum that will—

(1) profile the specific achievements of individual women throughout history;

(2) explore the experiences of women in our civilization; and

(3) celebrate the role of women in culture, commerce, politics, art, music, and the sciences;

Whereas the Museum will both honor the past contributions of women in history as well as the future role of women in our society;

Whereas the Museum will be housed in the restored State Fair Coliseum in Dallas, Texas, and designed by architect Wendy Evans Joseph, Senior designer for the United States Holocaust Memorial Museum;

Whereas the Museum has been widely supported by numerous women's organizations, local governments, corporations, and individuals;

Whereas the Museum is scheduled to open in the year 2000, the first time as a Nation we have witnessed the turn of a millennium; and

Whereas the turn of the millennium will be commemorated by government institutions and agencies with special projects and events all over our country; Now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate (the House of Representatives concurring). That it is the sense of Congress—

(1) that the past, present, and future contributions of women to culture, commerce, politics, art, music, and the sciences should be recognized and celebrated;

(2) that The Women's Museum: An Institute for the Future, in Dallas, Texas, should be designated as a millennium project for the United States; and

(3) that Federal agencies and other Federal institutions should support the establishment and operation of The Women's Museum: An Institute for the Future by—

(A) providing construction and operational support;

(B) supporting a ground-breaking ceremony for the museum; and

(C) supporting the museum and its objectives in all other respects.

AMENDING STANDING RULES OF THE SENATE

Mr. SESSIONS. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the Senate proceed to the immediate consideration of S. Res. 151, submitted earlier today by Senators WARNER and FORD.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The clerk will report.

The legislative clerk read as follows:

A resolution (S. Res. 151) to amend the Standing Rules of the Senate to require the Committee on Rules and Administration to develop, implement, and update as necessary a strategic planning process for the functional and technical infrastructure support of the Senate.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection to the immediate consideration of the resolution?

There being no objection, the Senate proceeded to consider the resolution.

Mr. WARNER. Mr. President, as chairman of the Committee on Rules and Administration, it is my job to ensure that our colleagues have the support services they need to perform our constitutional responsibilities. Almost all of those services rely on information technology which must be coordinated between various authorities in the Senate. Ultimately, however, it is the Rules Committee that sets the overall policies for these services and remains responsible for ensuring that the needs of Senators and committees are met.

With the explosion in information technology, and the increasing sophistication of our user community, it is almost a full time job to ensure that the Senate keeps up with changes in technology in a timely manner. To assist in our responsibilities, the Committee sought the advice of outside experts with considerable experience advising both governmental entities and private industry in making the information technology and infrastructure support delivery decisions.

The consulting firm of Booz-Allen & Hamilton thoroughly reviewed our service delivery systems in the Senate, with considerable cooperation and participation by members' offices and the officers of the Senate. Booz-Allen has advised the Committee that the implementation of a strategic planning process for reviewing and coordinating the information technology and infrastructure support services of the Senate would enable us to make more cost-effective decisions about how to deliver those services.

The ranking member, Senator FORD, and I agree that this is a business practice that can prove very beneficial for the Senate. The resolution that we offer establishes that strategic planning process. I urge the adoption of the resolution.

Mr. FORD. Mr. President, the Committee on Rules and Administration has the responsibility of ensuring that everything runs smoothly in the Senate. We have to stay current on the latest technology to be responsive to the needs of Senators and committees, and to make sure that we are using taxpayers' dollars wisely. There is a very delicate balance to strike between taking care of Members' individual needs and ensuring that the overall administration of the Senate functions in a coordinated and efficient manner.

To help the Rules Committee meet our responsibilities under the Standing Rules, the Committee solicited the advice of the consulting firm of Booz-Allen & Hamilton. Booz-Allen came before the Committee and presented their recommendations for how the Committee, and the Senate as a whole, can ensure that information technology and infrastructure support are more effectively and efficiently delivered in the Senate. Their recommendations include applying concepts that have worked in the private sector to bring efficiencies to technology and infrastructure support delivery. Specifically, Booz-Allen recommends that the Senate implement a strategic planning process for the delivery of information technology and infrastructure support.

This resolution provides for the creation of a strategic planning process in the Senate. I urge adoption of the resolution.

Mr. SESSIONS. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the resolution be agreed to; that the motion to reconsider be laid upon the table; and that any statements relating to the resolution appear at the appropriate place in the RECORD.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

The resolution (S. Res. 151) was agreed to, as follows:

S. RES. 151
